North Lamar High School's Theater performs 'The Mummy's Claw'

Paris, TX, October 6, 2009 – If an outing at the theater dressed in an award-winning costume sounds fun, then North Lamar High School's Theatre Department has something that should hit the spot.

The school's fall production of 'The Mummy's Claw', a bloodcurdling comedy by Mark Chandler, mixes mayhem with mystery. Staged at a party in the home of an archaeologist in Egypt in the early 1900's, guests seek clues to secrets from stone tablets that conjure up an ancient evil. The evening is full of non-stop hilarity as secrets are revealed little by little.

Performances are scheduled at North Lamar High School Auditorium on Thursday, October 29 at 7:30 p.m., a late night showing on Saturday, October 31 at 9:00 p.m., and Sunday, November 1 at 2:30 p.m. All audiences are encouraged to wear costumes with those being judged at the Saturday night performance in categories that include adult, high school, junior high, and K-5. Prizes will be awarded. Admission will be $5.00 for everyone at the door.
